Historic Homes of St. Louis

$85 per person

St. Louis is home to many amazing residences that tell the history of this river city that bustled with commerce and political electricity. The first stop will be the Campbell House Museum. After a monumental, five-year, $3 million restoration, the museum now stands as one of the most accurately restored 19th-century buildings in America, reflecting the high-Victorian opulence of the 1880s.

Built in 1851, the first house in the elegant neighborhood Lucas Place, the Campbell House was the home of renowned fur trader and entrepreneur Robert Campbell and his family from 1854 until 1938. The home weaves the story of the Irish elite and their Irish domestic servants and how their lives intertwined—an American version of “Downton Abbey!”

The museum contains hundreds of original Campbell possessions including furniture, paintings, clothing, letters, carriages and a unique set of interior photographs taken in the mid-1880s.

Enjoy lunch on your own at Ballpark Village, across from Busch Stadium. You'll have a choice of restaurants from which to choose. In the afternoon, you will visit and tour the Eugene Field House & St. Louis Toy Museum. Designated a National Historic Landmark in 2007, it is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and has been named a City of St. Louis Landmark.

The boyhood home of Eugene Field, who is beloved to this day as the “Children’s Poet” and widely known as the father of the personal newspaper column, will give you a feel for living in the mid-1800s in St. Louis. Field’s father represented Dred Scott in the landmark slavery trial.

Gardens Galore

$85 per person

Home to one of the top-three botanical gardens in the world, it’s only natural St. Louis would boast many other green areas. Enjoy the latest addition to the St. Louis Garden scene with the urban CityGarden. Opened in July 2009, the two-city block area decorated with modern art creates an oasis among downtown’s tall buildings and busy streets. Enjoy a description of what’s in the garden and walk from end to end if weather permits.

The highlight of the tour will be the Missouri Botanical Garden, home to the world’s first climatron building and at the forefront of plant holdings and biological research. Stroll through the sprawling gardens or enjoy a narrated tram ride. Enjoy lunch on your own at Sassafras Café in the Botanical Garden (currently, the welcome center is under renovation, but if Sassafras isn’t open, there is a café on grounds where guests can grab lunch.)

The next stop will be in Forest Park—St. Louis’ 1,293-acre public park in the heart of the city at the Jewel Box. The interior warmth lends to the tropical plants that live inside year-round. The windows show the outside in and allow everyone to enjoy this beautiful venue, whether inside or outside gazing at the glass exterior

Anheuser Busch InBev Brewery & Sightseeing Cruise
$109 per person

Begin the day with a narrated, one-hour sightseeing cruise on a replica paddle-wheeler along the Mighty Mississippi River. Learn about the history of the area and how the river helped form St. Louis. Next, enjoy lunch on your own in the historic Soulard area or the Biergarten at Anheuser Busch InBev Brewery.

In the afternoon, enjoy a Day Fresh tour at the brewery that highlights the journey of a beer from seed to sip. Guests will start the tour with a visit to the Clydesdale paddock and stables, then go to the Beechwood Aging Cellar, the historic Brewhouse, and the BEVO packaging facility. All guests 21 and over will get multiple samples on tour and will take home a day-fresh bottle of beer.

Historic Kimmswick with Lunch at The Blue Owl
$109 per person

Head to the quaint river town of Kimmswick, MO, home of the Blue Owl Restaurant & Bakery as featured on the Food Network. Mary's "Levee High Apple Pie" was chosen for one of "Oprah's Favorite Things" segments and spawned an entirely separate bakery to meet demand. Enjoy a Terrific Trio lunch (included in the fee) and time to stroll through the town and local shops.

Next, visit and tour the Anheuser Estate, ancestral home of Fred and Mabel Ruth Anheuser. Fred's great grandfather, Eberhard Anheuser, was the founder of E. Anheuser Brewing Company, the brewery that later became known as Anheuser Busch, producer of the world-famous Budweiser Beer.
